

SEVERAL SUBJECTS
SUBMITTED MONDAY
TO SPECIAL SESSION

MATTER OF INCREASING
GASOLINE TAX DUE FOR CONSIDERATION

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, September 27.—Governor Miriam Ferguson submitted to the Legislature Monday the proposition of changing, adding or eliminating "as you may think necessary and proper in the premises," the law governing the State Textbook Commission. She said "since your body has set out to investigate the actions of the commission she submitted the legislation.

The Governor also submitted for confirmation W. C. Witcher, recess appointee as district attorney for the 72nd Judicial District, a Lubbock. She said that Witcher, who had resigned, effective October 1, had been permitted to withdraw his resignation.

Considerable fight was made against confirmation of Witcher before the Governor's nominations committee, to whom the matter was referred in the Senate by Lieutenant Governor Harry Miller.

An act by Senator John H. Bailey of De Witt county to authorize any county or political subdivision or road district to issue bonds and levy taxes to pay interest and sinking funds on same, was also submitted.

Abolishment of the office of District Attorney for the Sixth Judicial District and the fixing of the duties of county attorneys, was submitted, as well as the proposed amendment to the elections and stock laws apply to Bailey and Farmer counties, to decide whether stock shall be permitted to run loose.

An act creating road district seven in Haskell county was submitted along with legislation to create the following independent school districts: Brenham, Washington county; Brockbridge, Stephens county; McAdoo, Pickens county; Priddy, Mills and County, and Edom, Van Zandt and Hunt county.

Legislature Reconvenes.
By Associated Press.

Austin, Sept. 27.—Both Houses of the Legislature reconvened Monday for the third week of the special session.

Indications were that the primary purpose of the session—validation of $100,000,000 of district road bonds—would be completed before the end of the week.

Bills by Dale of Fannin and others, calling for an increase of from one to three cents in the gasoline gallonage tax, and for a 50 per cent reduction in passenger automobile registration fees were scheduled for consideration Monday by the House.

Considerable interest was evidenced in the scheduled appearance of John Cage, Highway Commissioner before members of the Senate Monday night. The Senate last week postponed until the next regular session action on confirmation of Cage and Hal Moseley as Highway Commissioners and S. C. Granberry and Prison Commissioner. Mr. Cage is expected to discuss the postponement.

House Talks Cotton Reports.
Austin, Sept. 27.—Efforts to place the House on record as opposing government cotton production estimates, provoked a lively discussion Monday.

Representative John Smith of Austin introduced a resolution providing for discontinuance of the reports but accepted a substitute by Representative Santor that the present semi-monthly estimates be discontinued, and monthly report issued, beginning September 1. No final action was taken because time for consideration of resolutions had expired.

Charge Bond Money Squandered.
Austin, Sept. 27.—Of the $1,644,300 received for Hidalgo county flood control bonds, less than 71 per cent went into the county treasury, Representative T. K. Irwin, Dallas, charged Monday in the House.

Irwin, who last week by resolution asked legislative investigation of the bond deal, charged the bonds were registered "at an all night party in an Austin residence, attended by some State officials."

Representative Montgomery of Hidalgo declared his information was that the proceeds of the bonds were honestly expended.

General Obregon has issued an ultimatum to the chiefs, giving them five days within which to deliver to the Federal forces as a prisoner the Yaqui Chieftain Matus, who is said to have been responsible for the recent uprising among the Indians.

RESCUERS WORKING
CONSTANTLY REACH
ENTOMBER WORKERS

By Associated Press.

Ironwood, Mich., Sept. 27.—The sight of distressed women and children drove weary men to desperation today in their attempts to reach forty-three men entombed by a cave-in three days ago in the shaft of the Pabst Mine of the Oliver Mining Company here.

Bodies of three men crushed to death when tons of boulders and earth crumbled in the cage in the shaft have been recovered.

"Three" separate shafts, each having as an objective the eighth level of the mine, 800 feet under ground; where it is believed the 43 men were entrapped, are the means by which the rescue workers hope to learn the fate of the imprisoned men.

At least one is expected to attain its objective by tomorrow night, although obstacles encountered in digging through the earth and rock prevents any accurate predetermined of progress to be made.

Most closely watched is a diamond drill, which must bore 400 feet more before it can reach the eighth level. Communication can be established through this, if it is ascertained the men are alive.

Food tablets, badly needed, if men are alive, can be lowered then through the small drilled hole.

Waco, Texas, Sept. 27.—When a grass burr penetrated his knee six weeks ago, T. J. Andrews, aged 72, of Robinson, McLennan county pioneer, laughed at the trifles and cut it out with his pocketknife.

Today he lies dead in his country home. Illness, resulting when infection and double pneumonia set in, proved fatal early this morning.

By Associated Press.

Bethlehem, Mass., Sept. 27.—At least nine persons, eight of them passengers and one a trainman, were killed and thirty-five injured today when the Scranton "Flyer" of the Jersey Central Railroad ploughed into the "Lehigh Limited" of the Lehigh Valley Railroad at a crossing of the two roads in this city.

The accident occurred about 5:45 a. m., within a hundred feet of the New Union Station.

The "Lehigh Limited" left Buffalo last night for New York. The "Flyer" is a through train from Minhampton, N. Y., to Philadelphia. The Jersey Central engine struck three cars back of the Lehigh Valley locomotive, throwing a steel coach on its side. It was in this car that all of those killed or injured were riding.

Railroad men said had the car been of wooden construction they believed the killed and injured would have been far more numerous.

The dead, so far identified, are:

HUGH McCREE, aged 60, Allen- town, Pa., Lehigh Valley brakeman, crushed beneath the overturned car.

GEORGE GEVENTHOR, New Haven, Conn.

DAVID BAUM, believed to have been from Wilkesbarre, Pa.

D. J. SHOVLIN, address unknown, carried an Ingersol-Rand Company club card.

FORMER CORSICANA
GIRL IS BELIEVED
FATALLY INJURED

MISS MARTHA RUNDELL IS STRUCK BY AUTO ON
AMARILLO STREET

By Associated Press.
Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 27.—Miss Martha E. Rundell of Paulsland, formerly of Corsicana, who was struck by an automobile here Saturday night, still is unconscious in a local hospital.

Her skull was fractured and internal injuries are feared. Physicians say her injuries may prove fatal. No charges have been placed against Noel Greer, driver of the car.

Miss Martha Rundell was born and reared in Corsicana, being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Rundell. She is well known and very popular with all who know her. She had been engaged with her mother in the conducting of the Beaton Dining Room and later, the Navarro Coffee Shop here, and only recently went to Amarillo where it is stated she was struck by an automobile as she stepped from the sidewalk to cross a street in the business section of the city. Rumors that her injuries had proved fatal Sunday were unfounded.

According to information reaching Corsicana late Monday afternoon Mrs. F. N. Rundell will leave Amarillo with her injured daughter at 7 p. m. today for Dallas. It is said attending physicians have given up all hope for recovery of the injured girl.

REDUCED FEDERAL TAXES
BRINGS HEAVY INCREASE IN YEAR'S COLLECTIONS

By Associated Press.
Washington, Sept. 27.—Reduced federal tax rates, particularly those on individual incomes resulted paradoxically in a heavy increase in collections for the fiscal year, ending June 30, last, the first in which the lowered rates were in effect over those of the previous year.

Despite the heavy slashes in personal income rates, individual returns brought $3,698,554 more than in 1925, while the corporation levies, under a rate increased by one-half of one per cent during the last six months of the period, totaled $178,747,037 more than in the previous fiscal year.

This was revealed today in the annual report of the Internal Revenue Bureau, which showed the total increase to be $351,859,623 and that virtually every levy except the admission tax yielded a larger return than in the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1925.

Total internal revenue collections in the past fiscal year from all sources were $2,835,999,892, with more than a quarter of this collected in New York State, where income tax receipts were $569,505.

METCALF PREDICTS COTTON WILL REACH 25 CENTS PER POUND IF HELD OFF MARKET

By Associated Press.

San Angelo, Texas, Sept. 27.—The only way to get a fair price for the 1926 cotton crop is for the producer to hold their cotton and take it off the spot market, according to Charles B. Metcalf, President of the Cotton States Protective League.

Mr. Metcalf's statement is as follows:

"Reliable statistics show cotton producers at least thirty cents to grow, when sold for present stump prices farmers realize only about half its intrinsic value."

"Bankers can stop sacrificing this crop as is now occurring by advising creditors to defer collections temporarily, asking growers to stop selling and by amply financing cotton investors who buy spots to hold for a certain price, are to come because of abnormally low prices now."

All schools in the county expect to make application for state aid are urged to do so at once as a remarkable symposium of opinions and official statements have been made by Governor Tally of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, Federal Reserve Agent J. M. McClellan, county superintendent of public instruction.

END PRESIDENT'S VACATION.

President Coolidge's vacation in the Adirondacks is ended and there is substantial interest in knowing that the chief executive of the United States has greatly benefited by the summer's rest. The president's health is a matter that intimately concerns every citizen. The nation has had sad warning of the mental and physical strain imposed by the responsibilities and duties of the exalted office.Mr. Coolidge is perhaps better endowed with the art of saving himself from the encroachments of avoidable worry than most men who have reached the president's chair.
The success of his vacation is not only gratifying because it wears off any danger of a breakdown, but because it has brought about the happy discovery by the president that he has a gift for play which he may never have suspected.
Heretofore such outdoor diversions as golf and tennis have had no attractions for him.No one could imagine his following the strenuous example of Roosevelt, and plunging fully into a broad stream for a swim as an incident of a long hike. But from the day of his arrival at Paul Smith's he has taken to fishing,
"the contemplative man's recreation," with an enthusiasm that would have delighted the soul of Zane Grey. He has enjoyed to the full all the zestful pleasures of an angler's holiday, and waded hour after hour and day after day the regulation hip boots to play rod and line. He has to his credit a full measure of fisherman's luck and henceforward may be confidently expected to share with Gouverneur Cleveland the distinction of being an angling president.With an endowment which ultimately is to reach the gigantic sum of from $80,000,000 to $100,000,000, the Duke University of Durham, N. C., is now building a plant which will involve the construction of sixty buildings at a cost of about $25,000,000. It is estimated that it will take six years to complete this gigantic construction program.
The work now under way is costing about $300,000 monthly. Involved in this undertaking will be a medical and hospital group costing about $4,000,000, with an endowment of $6,000,000.
The site of the university is on a tract of land covering 1100 acres, which is connected with a 4000-acre tract with riparian rights owned by the university on both sides of the New Hope River. The original endowment by Mr. Duke of $40,000,000 is to be increased by setting aside a portion of the income until the endowment has reached $80,000,000, but it is estimated that in the course of time the endowment will aggregate at least $100,000,000 and possibly continue with an almost indefinite expansion.The proposition is one of such tremendous magnitude that it is difficult to visualize what this institution will mean to the educational work, not alone of the South but of the entire country. It might not be inappropriate to suggest to the trustees of this university that they establish in connection with its work a school of technology and research equal in facilities to the greatest technological school in America. It would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of such a technology thus richly endowed and giving to the students of the South opportunities equal to anything to be found anywhere in technical work, even if not by virtue of the situation and opportunity surpassing any other institution of the kind in this country or in Europe. It is true that the plans already made include civil and electrical engineering schools, but to this might be added metallurgical schools, textile schools and other technical schools of the widest possible influence, in order that there may be created in the Central South a center of technical education for graduate and post graduate work unsurpassed anywhere.With this vast endowment the trustees of the Duke University have an opportunity never vouch ed to any other similar body of men in America. Their responsi-

Kerens School Girl Painfully Injured

Special to the Sun.

Kerens, Texas, Sept. 24.—Hazel Matlock, a student of the Kerens public school was painfully injured Wednesday at noon while playing popping the whip, with other school children. The young girl was thrown from the end of the line, falling on her arm and wrist, tearing the ligaments at the wrist, and almost fracturing the joint.

With this vast endowment the trustees of the Duke University have an opportunity never vouch ed to any other similar body of men in America. Their responsibility is in keeping with the opportunity. In this issue we are publishing a comprehensive illustrated story of the university and the work now under way in the construction of buildings and some of the plans which have been outlined for the development of this institution of learning, which should become one of the mightiest forces in America for advancement, not only in academic work but in medicine and in science and in research work such as no institution in the South has yet been able to undertake. The vastness of the endowment makes a hitherto unequalled opportunity for putting the South to the forefront in advanced lines of academic, medical and technical education."

CROWDS THRILLED BY Farmers Want Column

From Saturday's Daily:

Believe it or not.

With eyes sealed and bandaged with not the least possibility of being able to see, Gaston O'Byrne, the Man of Mystery with the Radio Brain, drove an Oldsmobile automobile through the crowded streets of the downtown section Saturday afternoon with the ease and sureness of one with his eyesight unhampered.

Several hundred people gathered in front of the Sun office at 3 o'clock to see the mysterious Gaston demonstrate his baffling gift.

A committee, consisting of Dr. R. C. Curtis, Andy Autrey, C. N. Olsen and Roy Whalin of the Daily Sun, sealed Gaston's eyes and placed a black bandage over the many seals tying it in place with a hard knot. After the committee had pronounced it impossible for the driver to see he took the driver's seat in a stock Oldsmobile car from the Lavyon-Sewell agency, started the motor, threw the clutch in gear and moved through the big crowd in a manner to bring exclamations of wonderment from the throngs.

Gaston drove his car at a rapid clip conforming with all traffic regulations, stopping and starting with the bell signals on the street intersections and avoiding traffic mishaps as though his eyes were not bandaged. He drove up and down Main, Commerce and Beaton streets and this being Saturday the traffic was exceptionally heavy.

The streets were lined with interested spectators who marveled at the man, who although unable to see, handled his Oldsmobile with such ease.

During the drive Gaston made one stop at the Lavyon-Sewell Oldsmobile agency where he bought a car, selecting another car from the salesroom floor.

Gaston's blindfold drive took him south on Main to Seventh avenue, West of Seventh to Fifteenth, North of Fifteenth to Third avenue, East on Third avenue to Beaton and then several trips were made up and down the three main business streets.

Prior to the drive Mr. Sullivan, Gaston's manager, gave an interesting lecture in which he told of the unusual powers of the man. It was pointed out by Mr. Sullivan that Gaston had baffled not only the scientific men of America but that famous European doctors have made the closest examination of Gaston and failed to explain his wonderful gift. There are only two such men in the world the other being Thompson who also made a drive in Corsicana last year.

The drive today was made without mishap and Gaston furnished thrills for the hundreds lining the streets that will long be remembered.

Gaston was one of the feature attractions at the recent picnic of the Corsicana Lions Club.

FOURTEENTH DAY OF DAUGHERTY TRIAL
STARTED MONDAY

By Associated Press.

New York, Sept. 27.—The government today began the fourteenth day of the conspiracy trial of Harry M. Daugherty and Thomas W. Miller, with an attempt to trace to the former attorney general a further $50,000 of an alleged bribe of $41,000 paid to hasten release of $7,000,000 of seized German properties.

Last week United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner brought out testimony and exhibits to show that over $100,000 had figured in Daugherty's bank accounts, the records of which he destroyed because "they showed nothing."

To Miller's banking brokerage accounts $50,000 had previously been traced.

The $41,000—of which $39,000 was paid to Liberty Loan Bonds—was paid to John T. King, former Republican National Committeeman from Connecticut, to influence the release of the impounded assets of the American Metal Company, which Richard Merton, German metal magnate, claimed in the name of the Societe Suisse Pour Valeurs De Metaux. The government contends this claim was false.

Bank Cashier Testifies.

Verne V. Veall, assistant cashier of the Midland National Bank, testified she sent to Otis & Company, Cleveland bankers, four $10,000 Liberty Loan Bonds bearing serial numbers that were on bonds Merton gave King.

The bonds were sent November 17, 1923, Miss Veall said, on orders of Mal S. Daugherty.

In its outline of the case, the government said it depended for proof of its conspiracy charge upon its ability to convince the jury that King was "working in behalf of Daugherty" when he treated with Merton.

After Otis & Company had sold the bonds, a check for $39,335.56 was sent to Mal S. Daugherty. It was established by a stipulation between Max D. Steur, counsel for Daugherty and United States Attorney Buckner.

Certificate of Deposit Issued.

When the check for $39,335.56 arrived at the Midland National Bank, Miss Veall testified, it was not placed in Mal S. Daugherty's account, but took a certificate of deposit which she said was the same as a cashier's check. Two weeks later, according to bank ledger sheets, this sum was paid, but the record did not show to whom the money was paid.

Another ledger sheet, however, showed this sum credited to "cash" to Mal S. Daugherty's account. Subsequently, it was shown by bank records, Mal S. Daugherty paid Harry M. Daugherty $49,165.

The government was on the trial of five Liberty Bonds of $10,000 each. It was not shown that the difference between the checks and the sum paid Harry M. Daugherty was connected with the fifth bond.

Sum Was Paid Daugherty.

The $49,165 was paid Daugherty by a certificate of deposit. Credited to him on the same day—December 22, 1923, were three $5,000 and five $2,000 certificates of deposit, as well as the $49,165.

The certificate of deposit for $19,165 was paid on July 17, 1924, and on the same day five other certificates of deposit of $10,000 were issued.

"Can a $49,165 certificate be split up into say five or ten thousand dollar certificates?" Buckner asked Miss Veall.

"Yes," she replied. "And where in the bank's accounts can I go to find that such a swap, in case nothing more than a swap occurred, was really made?"

"You'd have to get the certificate."

MANY ATTRACTIONS BILLED FOR ELLIS COUNTY BIG SHOW

RED KELLEY'S RODEO WILL FURNISH CHIEF AMUSE- MENT CONCESSIONS

Ennis, Texas, Sept. 27.—Red Kelley's Rodeo has been contracted for October 4, 5 and 6, to furnish the entertainment in front of the grand stand both matinee and night during the Ellis County Fair. The fair officials feel very fortunate in securing such a large, high class rodeo, as Red Kelly is noted throughout the larger cities for high class rodeo shows. Last March he was at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show. He also furnished the rodeo at the Texas State Fair in 1925.

Included in his outfit is about 15 wild bucking horses and a large number of wild steers, including wild Brahman steers, known also as India sacred cattle. Bronco riding, trick riding, calf and steer roping, fancy riding of all kinds will be participated in by a large number of cowboys direct from the large ranches of West Texas and Wyoming.

Red Kelly's Rodeo is noted for having a clean show, clean cut and well paid cowboys. The people of Ellis county should feel indeed fortunate in having an opportunity of seeing such a high class show. Local riders, both men and women, will also have a part in the show.

Mr. Kelly also states that his cowboys will ride any wild horse or mule owned in Ellis county. All they have to do is bring him to Fair Park.

The fair has gone to a heavy expense in bringing Red Kelly to the Ellis County Fair for the first three days only, to give the people the best of its kind and it is hoped that the people will attend, which, of course, is essential if the fair continues its effort to give the people of Ellis county the best to be had.

A parade will be given Monday morning down town the opening day of the fair and all local riders, men, women, boys and girls are invited to be in the parade. Remember the dates for the rodeo, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday only, matinee performances 3 p. m. and nights 8 o'clock. Each performance will have different features.

Thursday night the mammoth fashion review will be at the grandstand Friday afternoon 3:30 the football game of the season. Ennis vs. Waxahachie. Friday night at 8 the Mother Goose festival pageant and Saturday night at 8 the coronation of the king and queen of Ellis county, here will not be anything in front of the grandstand Thursday and Saturday afternoon.

SNOW AND FREEZING TEMPERATURES OVER NORTHERN STATES

By Associated Press.

Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 25.—The lowest temperature for September on record since the Weather Bureau was established forty years ago, was recorded in Amarillo today, when the mercury dropped to 34 degrees above.

The temperature dropped from 72 degrees at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. Continued cold weather is forecast for today.

By Associated Press.

Dallas, Texas, Sept. 25.—The Canadian snowstorm sent a chilly seasonal greeting down to Texas Saturday and residents of this vicinity awoke to a nippy norther, the first of the year.

Winter wraps of all kinds were speedily dragged from their summer's hibernation, and football fans were in glee, while baseball enthusiasts prepared to shiver through the final spasms of the dying diamond season.

The official government thermometer at Dallas registered a drop of 23 degrees between 2 a. m. and 7 a. m. today. At 2 a. m. it stood at 81, and at 7 it had gone down to 58. Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock Dallasites shivered under a hot sun, which held the mercury at 95, and then they started forth on the day's duties today the temperature was 33 degrees lower.

Abilene reported a drop of 24 degrees last night, registering 52 at 7 a. m. Amarillo had 31 which was a drop of 12. El Paso reported temperature at 66 and Palestine at 74.

The cold was creeping gradually southward toward South Texas, according to the Dallas Weather Bureau.

The keen edged atmosphere was held to be just right for the imminent battle of the football season, but ticket holders for the Dallas end-of-the-Dixie Series, which opens this afternoon, were less cheerful over the prospects of enjoying their summer sport in winter habitats.

Still colder weather is in prospect for the State.

Today's forecast was for much colder and local rain in East Texas tonight with frost in the extreme northwest; showers in the South portion and colder in the southeast.

In Texas showers were predicted in the Southwest, much colder in the South tonight, with Sunday fair and probably not so cold.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—The North and Middle West shivered today from cold winds sweeping in a broad southeasterly fan from snow-capped wheat fields on the Western Canadian prairies. To the south the cold wave moved

RIDER THINKS OLD CLOWN HARBINGER OF GOOD LUCK

Sugar Lumps and Pats for Horses Daily Greeting Behind Scenes of the Big Circus.

Spangleland — the land of circus — abounds in quaint contrasts and curious little incongruities proving the old truth that human nature is the same the world over.

For example, beautiful Rose Reiffenbach, the Hungarian equestrienne with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey combined circus, would never think of entering the arena before John Slater, the faithful old clown, came to give her milk-white steed, "Poco," a friendly pat and a lump of sugar. This is a daily occurrence, and the bond between the veteran "Joey," the horse, and the fair rider is strong, human and free from sentiment. In a corner of his dressing room trunk, John Slater keeps a store of the succulent morsels and he never fails to give his equine friend his daily treat. Miss Rose smiles graciously and exchanges friendly greetings with the old clown before riding into the ring. She regards him as a harbinger of good luck.

With her sister, Mitzi, Miss Rose has ridden in all the principal circusses of Continental Europe. Unlike the majority of "brother" and "sister" teams on the stage, where the ties are merely professional, the Reiffenbach Sisters can lay claim to genuine bonds of kinship. So also can the famous Charles, those marvelous aerialists; the Nelson family of acrobats; and the Tedesco Brothers, or Colleagues, a quartet of reckless wire-walkers who electrify beholders of their thrilling somersaults on slender strand of steel wire. "The Greatest Show on Earth" is a veritable congress of happy families. Of the more than eight hundred performers traveling with it this season eighty-five per cent are bound by family ties.

All will be here with the great circus, Saturday, October 9.

ANOTHER APPEAL IS SENT TO CORTICANA AMERICAN RED CROSS

The American Red Cross has taken over the matter of relief in the hurricane stricken area of Florida and it is estimated that the sum of $5,000,000 will be necessary to carry this work through to success. Funds are beginning to show up in coming in, especially in Corsicana, where the need has not been stressed to any great degree.

Today the Rev. H. J. Ellis, chairman of the Navarro County Chapter, American Red Cross, received the following urgent appeal from the Mid-Western Red Cross headquarters at St. Louis. The appeal speaks for itself, and is as follows:

"St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 24, 1926.

"Rev. H. J. Ellis,
Chairman Navarro County Chapter American Red Cross, Corsicana, Texas.

"Baker and Fleser have completed survey entire Florida disaster area and report need for instant relief even greater than first indications, with 5,100 homes totally destroyed, 6,000 injured, 50,000 homeless.

"Permanent rehabilitation will prove a stupendous task. The Red Cross has undertaken the entire relief burden and will see it through. Five million dollars needed.

"Urge renewed efforts on your part to raise largest possible amount in your community. Wire Mid-Western Branch, Saint Louis, the amount raised by you to date and the probable final total.

"JOHN BARTON PAYNE."

That there is urgent need for funds and that Corsicana has not responded as well as was expected and desired is an evident fact. The appeal is therefore made that all who can do so contribute to this fund. The Rev. Mr. Ellis has asked that subscriptions be left at the Daily Sun office, and that checks be made payable to the American Red Cross. It is urged that all who feel that they can do so send in their contributions at the earliest possible date.

Subscriptions handed in today were as follows:

Mrs. A. G. Holmes $ 2.50

Wm. Clarkson, Sr. 50.00

FATAL ACCIDENTS AT MEXIA CAUSED DEATH OIL WORKERS

Special to the Sun.

Mexia, Texas, Sept. 25.—Traffic in Mexia took another toll when Robert Overstreet, aged 24, died at a local hospital from a skull fracture sustained in a collision. He was pumper for an oil company.

Doyle A. Tolbert, aged 24, pipe line worker, died during the night from fatal burns when he fell into a ditch of burning oil in the Mexia oil field. He was working in the ditch when oil on top of the water ignited and he fell back while trying to climb out.

A record low temperature of 20 above was reported from Yakima, Washington and Baker, Oregon, while the eastern end of the wave had sent the mercury to 47 degrees at Chicago early today.

Snow flurries were reported in Northern, Illinois, Iowa and Minnesota.

The coldest reported spot in the country was Helena, Montana, where the thermometers were at zero. Ankle deep snow was reported in parts of the Dakotas with temperatures dropping as much as 40 degrees in a few hours.

Slowly rising temperatures were forecast over much of the Middle West today, with cloudy skies and possible thunder storms.

Vegetation Killed in Kansas.

By Associated Press.

Kansas City, Sept. 25.—The cold wave last night sent the mercury down in the thirties in many Kansas and Missouri points.

All vegetation was killed in Northwestern Kansas and temperatures went down to 20 degrees.

Frost was predicted for this section tonight.

Under the direction of Fire Chief Under Keith the week will be appropriately observed in Corsicana and an educational campaign will be conducted in an effort to eliminate as far as possible the fire danger.

One of the features of Fire Prevention Week will be a drawing contest in which the school children of Corsicana will participate. Three prizes amounting to $25.00 will be given. This prize money was donated by the various insurance firms of the city. The contest will be the drawing of posters by the children in which the fire danger is to be forcefully presented in picture form. This contest will close October 13. The judges will be Elmer Keith, Wilbur A. Wright and Miss Willene Greenlee. The prizes will be divided as follows: First-$10; second, $8; third, $7. It is planned to take all of the entries and place them in a window display in a downtown store. Also in all probability the winning picture will be sent off by Mr. Wright and reproduced in regular poster size and placed on billboards throughout the city and county.

Also through public subscription Chief Keith has raised a sufficient amount of money to place forty-five prevention books in the public schools for the use of students.

FOR WORKING PEOPLE.

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose or two of Herbie. It is just the medicine needed to purify the system and restore the vim and ambition of health.

BANKERS OF COUNTY MEET THURSDAY FOR COTTON DISCUSSION

Representative bankers of various Texas cities met in Dallas Friday at a special conference called by the Dallas Clearing House Association and adopted a plan for raising of a fund of $100,000,000 to be loaned at $50 a bale and 6 per cent interest per annum, to retire a million bales of Texas cotton or one in five bales of a prospective crop of 5,000,000, this money to be raised through the clearing house associations of the larger cities in cotton centers of Texas. Approximately 100 bankers attended the meeting among whom were Joe B. Fornson, J. N. Edens, F. N. Drane, Suttie Roberts, and Congressman Luther Johnson of Cor-for further local discussion of the plan the Navarro County Bankers' Association will meet Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock in banquet hall of the Navarro Hotel. An effort is being made to have the Hon. Clarence Ousley as the principal speaker. Safer farming, the marketing of cotton and the plan of distribution of hog throughout the county will be the principal items to come up for discussion. The meeting is expected to be largely attended.

To put the plan adopted at Dallas in operation Texas bankers will be urged to convert some of their present loans in the cotton crop into new loans on the actual cotton insured and warehoused, with warehouse receipts or chattel mortgages attached, and thus help cotton growers of Texas to market their crop in an orderly manner and stop dumping.

The same plan is to be introduced into Oklahoma, Arkansas and other Southern States until at least 2,000,000 bales of cotton in those States or a total of 3,000,000 bales, will have been retired from the market. This would leave only about 12,000,000 bales of American cotton in the active market, although in the last twelve months the world consumed 15,000,000 bales of American cotton.

Coupled with this financial plan is one of a 25 per cent acreage reduction in cotton in Texas and in other Southern States for 1927, starting early this fall through an intensive campaign of education and signing of pledges with proper acreage reduction next season the 3,000,000 bales should be easily absorbed with the 1927 cotton crop, it was stated.

Committee of Work.
The Dallas conference was called to order at the Baker Hotel early Friday by J. B. Adue, president of the Dallas Clearing House Association, and W. P. Allen, of the American National Bank of Terrell was made chairman. After various plans had been presented by bankers, Mr. Allen appointed a committee to draft a plan and recommendations as follows:

Howell E. Smith.
Howell E. Smith, president of the First National Bank of McKinney and director of the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank, chairman; John E. Owens, vice president of the Republic National Bank of Dallas; T. H. Davis, vice president of the Austin National Bank of Austin; W. W. Woodson, president of the First National Bank of Waco; Nathan Adams, president of the American Exchange National Bank of Dallas; T. J. Caldwell, vice president of the Union National Bank of Houston, and Franz C. Gross, president of the San Antonio National Bank of San Antonio. Mr. Allen was made member of this committee and appointed as chairman of a working committee to perfect the plan composed of the same men.

The plight of cotton growers and of country bankers was stressed in talks by several bankers, among them Gibbons Poteet, president of the First National Bank of Roxton; E. B. Alford, vice president of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Henderson; John T. Orr, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association; Mr. Davis, Mr. Woodson, T. H. Harbin, cotton planter and capitalist of Waxahachie, and E. A. Woodall, president of the Conocoil Trust Company of Hillsboro.

To Stop Cotton Decline.
Immediate action to stop a further price decline in cotton was urged. Clarence Ousley, director of the Texas Safe Farming Association, will be loaned by that organization to carry the message of acreage reduction and retiring of the depressing surplus cotton crop to other States so that action can be taken concerted.

A pledge to reduce the cotton acreage in Ellis County, signed by several hundred landholders and farmers, was read to the conference and similar activity is to be put into force in other Texas counties, as well as all through the South.

Complete faith was expressed in the stability of Texas farming and business and in the ability of the South's bankers to put the plan into execution in order to maintain and restore prosperity.

The text of the recommendations adopted follows:

It is resolved, by a representative group of Texas bankers assembled in Dallas, Texas, this the 24th day of September, who believe that they speak the minds of all the bankers of Texas that

1. We pledge our resources and energies to cooperate with the farmers of Texas to prevent the further sacrifice of their cotton, which we believe is selling below its economic value.

2. The banks of Texas have already provided the funds for the production of the crop and the process of liquidation is now underway. We recommend that these banks convert some of their present loans on the cotton crop into new loans on the actual cotton insured and warehoused or put under cover, with warehouse receipts or chattel mortgages attached, and the drop in the price thus assist the producers in orderly marketing.

3. For the assistance of local banks that may not be able to re-finance cotton in this way, we pledge the procuring of $100,000,000 to be loaned at $50 a bale at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. We urge, with entire confidence in the ultimate outcome, the holding of at least one bale in five or at least 1,000,000 bales in Texas, until the next cotton season and the gradual marketing of the remainder. The world's consumption of American cotton last year was 15,160,000 bales, which sold at approximately 24 a pound, and consumption will likely be nearer 15,500,000 bales this year. There does not seem to us to be such a surplus as to warrant present low prices, and we believe that firmness and patience in marketing will restore much of the lost value reflected in present prices.

4. A necessary part of this plan of relief is the reduction of next year's acreage in cotton by at least 25 per cent. We urge the bankers of each county immediately to assemble their leading farmers and organize schoolhouse campaign for acreage reduction pledges. This year's great feed crops provide next year's feed supply, and the policy of home production of food and feed must be maintained and intensified.

5. We realize that the complete success of this plan requires the cooperation of other cotton States and we ask the officers of the Texas Safe Farming Association to lend the services of its director, Clarence Ousley, to visit at once the principal cities in other cotton States to urge like action and the retirement of 2,000,000 bales more in other cotton States, making 3,000,000 bales altogether to be retired, and the president of this meeting is requested to furnish the necessary credentials.

6. Finally, we have full faith in the ability of the South's bankers and farmers to arrest and reverse the present threatening situation and to recover and maintain a reasonable degree of prosperity. It is entirely within their power to retire the apparent surplus and absorb it in reduced production next year. We urge the farmers and their bankers to stand firm to this program and we are confident that relief will come in due course.

Automatic sprinklers saved the Stroud-Dockum Wholesale Grocery Company a greater loss when fire of unknown origin broke out in the store at 7:30 Friday evening at 310 South Ninth street causing a $1,000 loss, according to Fire Chief Elmer Keith who made the call.

The sprinkling system automatically got in action at a certain temperature of heat and helped extinguish the fire from the inside of the building while the firemen fought from the outside.

A grass fire earlier in the evening brought all fire fighting apparatus from the central station to a blaze that was well under way at 403 South Eleventh street. The fire was soon put out with no damage done to property.

CIRCUS PARADE STILL THING OF THE PAST

Great Combine Again Omits Pageant to Make Room for Additional New Features.

IMPOSING EQUINE BALLET NOW ADDED.

The "bigger and better than ever" policy that has annually been adopted by the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined shows has again resulted in the elimination of the street parade. That may sound like paradox, for there are some who will suppose that with the street pageant done away with, the circus must be smaller. But the reverse is true.

"It's just because the show is bigger and heavier by far than ever before," explained one of the circus advance agents today. "It was the addition of the truly enormous trained horse show and its massive properties that added the last straw last season. Ever since the two famous circuses were merged into one in 1919, the giving of a street parade had been considerable of a problem. Day after day the procession was far behind scheduled time. Mothers and the little ones lined the streets for hours. Out at the circus grounds hundreds of men and hundreds of horses toiled to 'put the show on the lot' and then to make ready for the parade. And when this was given it was frequently impossible to begin the afternoon performance on time. Thousands of patrons waited before the main entrance impatient to obtain admittance.

All this difficulty was traced to the ponderousness of the organization. Everything had grown in size. There was more of everything to be handled. And then, that the public might be given a new and better program for the present season, the Ringlings purchased Europe's biggest "Equine Ballet" numbering 200 horses, and added it to the regular circus program.

"Almost 100 men and women performers, making more than 800 in all, have been added for the season of 1926. Visitors will find five troupes of elephants performing in the 'big-top' in place of the usual three groups.

"In order to perform the entire five companies of horses simultaneously, two improvised rings have been constructed. These are set on the two steel structured stages for use during the trained equine display, literally, and for the first time, giving the public a five-ring circus.

"In order to accommodate these added features and, at the same time, have ample room for the three rings and all the stages used by the human side of the show, the great main tent had to be made larger. Thus, things have reached a proportion that simply make necessary the elimination of the street parade.

"Had the Ringling Brothers yielded to the temptation to 'cut down' their circus last winter, the parade might have 'come back.' But, instead, they imported five splendid troupes of trained horses—now giving them a total of 350—together with the experts who schooled them. Thus, the giant combine of 1926 is indeed the greatest of all time and the chance of restoring the street parade gone glimmering, for there is no place on the trains for the necessary equipment nor time to give it if there was.

"So instead of waiting for hours for the parade the youngsters and grown-ups can take a trip to the show grounds during the morning. With all the added equipment and new animals, it promises as many remarkable sights as any parade can possibly furnish."

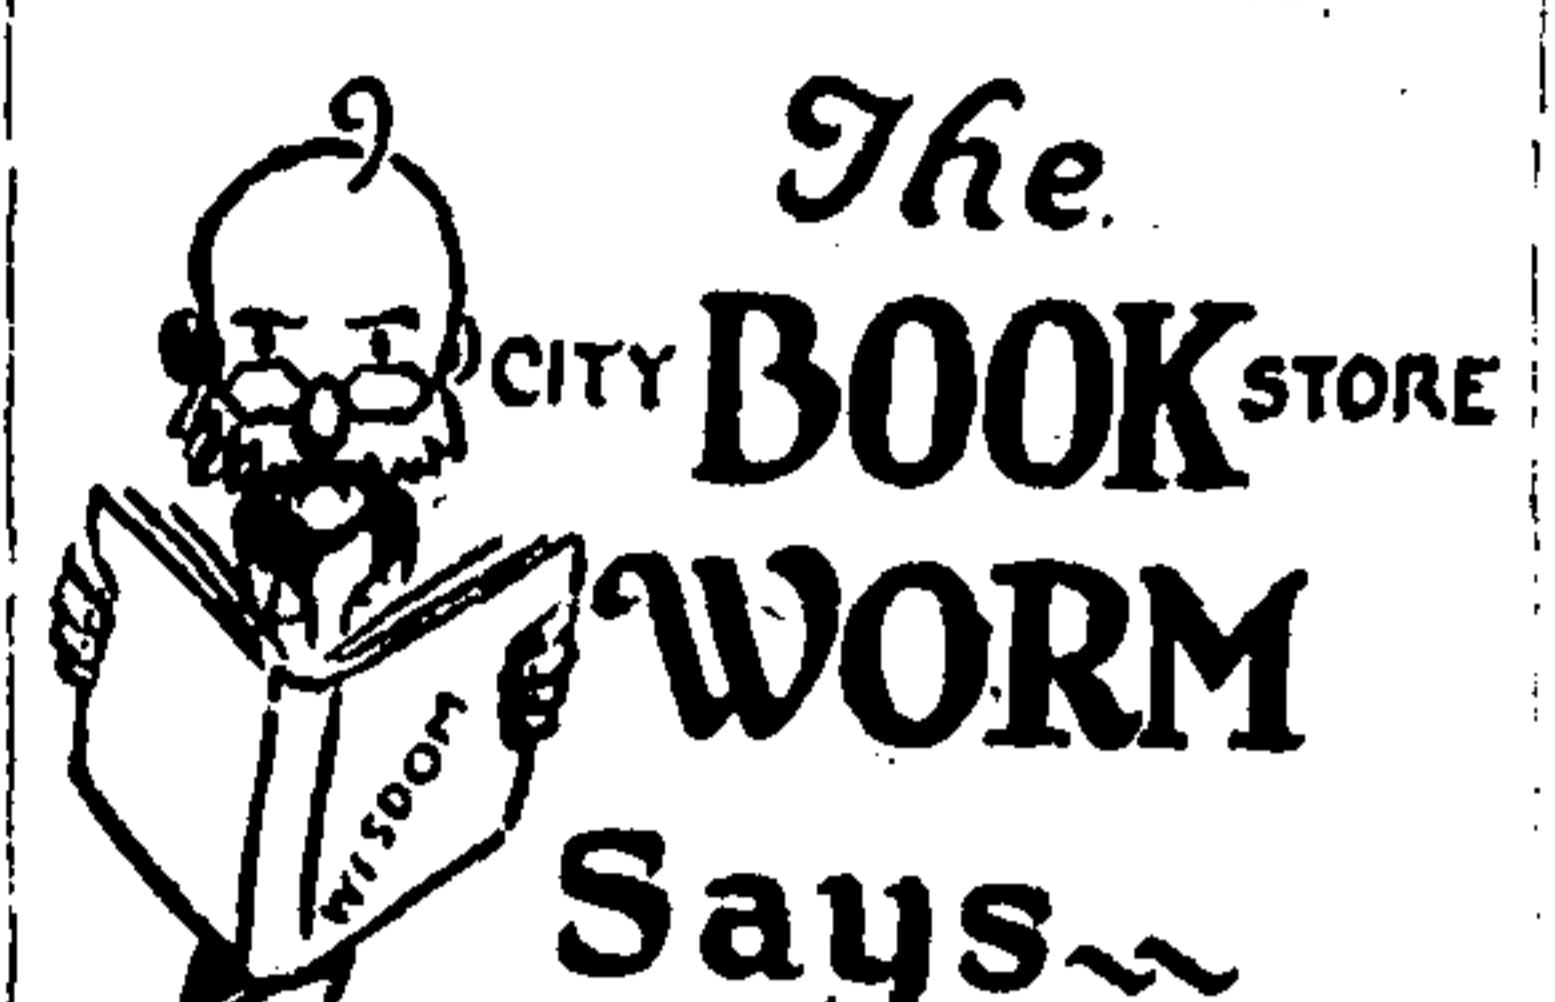

Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey are to exhibit here Saturday, October 9.

Daugherty, attorney general in the Harding cabinet, burned ledger sheets that the government alleges would show that part of an alleged bribe was deposited to his credit in the Midland National Bank, Washington Court House, Ohio, was given today in Daugherty-Miller conspiracy trial by Mal S. Daugherty, brother of the defendant Daugherty.

By Associated Press.
New York, Sept. 24. Mal S. Daugherty was called by the government today to testify against his brother, Harry M. Daugherty, in the Daugherty-Miller conspiracy trial.

United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner called the former attorney general's brother as the first witness in today's session of the trial of Daugherty and Miller for alleged conspiracy to defraud the United States of their best services. The government charges that Daugherty and Miller received approximately $200,000 of a $441,000 paid as a "commission" for the release of $7,000,000 of seized property.

Miller was alien property custodian and Daugherty attorney general at the time of the alleged fraud in 1921.

Witness is Nervous.

Mal S. Daugherty was visibly nervous as he was sworn. Buckner immediately began questioning him about the disappearance of records of the Midland National Bank of Washington Court House, Ohio, of which he is president.

The records, the government alleges, were destroyed by Harry M. Daugherty to prevent the government from tracing to his accounts $150,000 of the $441,000 commission.

The $441,000 was paid by Richard Merton, German metal magnate, to John T. King, late Republican National Committeeman from Connecticut.

The government has shown that King and Daugherty were friendly and that King introduced Merton to Miller and Daugherty.

Daugherty was questioned about three ledger sheets for his own account, that of his brother and one for Jesse W. Smith, confidential advisor to Harry M. Daugherty who committed suicide in 1922.

Mal S. Daugherty had been subpoenaed to bring these ledger sheets but he said they were gone. "Were they in your book when you left?" Buckner asked.

"No."

"Where were they?"

"I haven't the slightest knowledge. We, my brother and I brought them here in October, 1922."

This was for the grand jury investigation into the part Jesse Smith played in the alleged conspiracy. The ledger sheets were not subpoenaed, but he said he brought them anyway.

"Have you seen them since?"

"No."

"What did you do with them?"

"I gave them to my brother."

Ledger Sheets Destroyed.

At the time of the grand jury investigation in New York that resulted in the first indictments against Daugherty and Miller, Mal S. Daugherty said he was subpoenaed to bring the ledger sheets.

"I went to Columbus, Ohio," he said, "and asked Harry for them."

"What did he say?"

"He told me he had destroyed them."

"How did he destroy them?"

"He burned them."

Mal S. Daugherty was asked if he ever destroyed with his brother the contents of the ledger sheets and other documents. He replied that he had.

"When?"

"I don't recollect."

"Before they were burned?"

"I don't remember."

Yesterday the government traced to the Midland National Bank a check for $22,000 which was payable to King. It is the records concerning the handling of this check, which the government alleges was placed to Harry M. Daugherty's credit, that were destroyed.

By previous witnesses, the government had traced $50,000 of the Merton-King Liberty Bonds to banking and brokerage accounts of Miller. The government has pledged itself to show that more than $150,000 of the bonds Merton gave King went to Daugherty's account.

All the city's available firemen fought more than an hour, and subdued the fire only after some of them crashed through a burned roof, injuring at least one.

Harry's damage to their mall and advertising department was given as at least $50,000, while Cox's hosiery shop and Reddy's millinery shop had aggregate losses of about $20,000.
